CITY OF SCARS

"IMAGINARY TALES"
FROM THE OTHERWORLD

Somewhere between Here
and There, fact and fiction,
never and forever exists a
place full of miraculous creatures, arcane magic, and whispering shadows. It's a place where every dream can come true - but also every nightmare.

Welcome to the

What wonders and horrors await you there? Keep reading and find out - at your own risk, of course.

Sootlings

Consisting of coal dust
and wild orgone,
Sootlings form spontaneously
in chimney vents and become alive. Some of them are just harmless
pranksters, others ... are not so harmless.

and other pests on

Sterconauts

The trash heaps of the City of Scars are just as multifaceted and fantastic as its citizens. Sterconauts dive into the titanic mountains of garbage with their steam-powered vehicles. Enter the City today and learn what treasures they hope to find there!

CALIGULA PHRAX

The Lord Mayor for
the last 667 years,

Caligula Phrax
is a cunning and sometimes ruthless politician, respected and feared by friends and foes alike.

There are whisperings that he owes his long term of office
to dark and otherworldly forces.

Rumor or fact?
Journey into the City of Scars
and maybe you'll find out

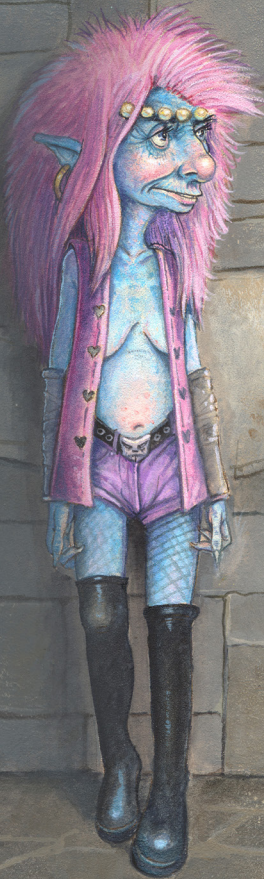

Having run a magic store in the Rue de la Migraine for almost 200 years now, Madame Gallows is a traditional witch that takes much pride in her craft, She's friendly, if a bit eccentric – but, as you'll see, it's not a really good idea to make her angry.

Juniper Gallows

He was the most notorious sky pirate the City of Scars
has ever known:
the legendary
JOHNNY PYRELIGHT,
captain of the fine
trans-dimensional ship,
the Misericordia.
Join us on Patreon to learn how
he became the dreaded
king of the sky raiders –
and how death finally caught up with him.

Miss Patience

She stands at the entrance of Gehenna Plaza Music Hall waiting ... waiting ... waiting for centuries. For whom or what? You'll find out ... if you enter the City of Scars!

HERCULE VON REICHENBACH

There's no anti-detective more clever, devious and talented than Professor Hercule von Reichenbach, the grey eminence of the City's underworld. But what exactly is an anti-detective – and why should you hire one? Join us on Patreon, and find out!

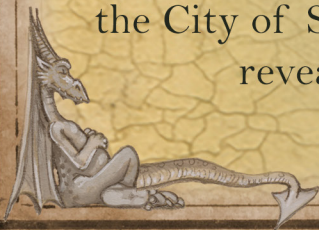

Lofwyr Brimley

Some dragons collect princesses.

Some dragons collect treasures.

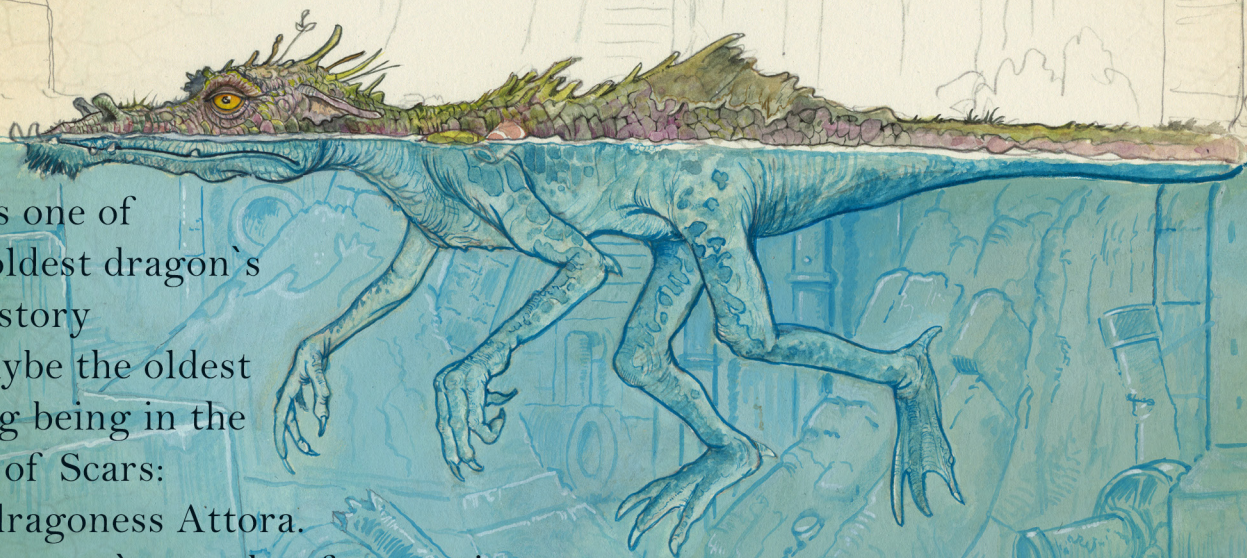

Lofwyr Brimley the Elder
collects books.

But not just any old books: the most special and rare tomes in all of Creation. Want to know what literary treasures he's hiding in his famous underground library – and what he does to those who try to steal them? Step into into the City of Scars and all will be revealed to you!

Attora

She's one of
the oldest dragon's
in history
– maybe the oldest
living being in the
City of Scars:
the dragoness Attora.
But no-one's seen her for centuries.
Where is she hiding and why? You'll find out – if you dare to enter the
City of Scars

Mr. Skorge

In a city full of secrets, few beings are quite as mysterious as the creature only known as Mr Skorge. He can solve any problem for you, they say – but at what price?

Take a look at our Patreon and find out why you should always be careful what you wish for.

Especially in the City of Scars ...

Scyllos, the Inspired

He's a true Renaissance man (or dragon): a brilliant engineer and a poet as well. If you want to know what else makes him so different from his fellow dragons, then hesitate no longer and follow us into the City of Scars!

Lady Euphoria

As one of the most prominent noblewomen in the City of Scars, Lady Euphoria Empusa is known for her elegance, style, wit and uncurable delusions of grandeur.

And she certainly knows how to throw a party. Visit our Patreon and get a glimpse of the spectacle that awaits her guests at her 999th birthday party!

SEWER GAUNT

Sewer Gaunts don't socialize much, thus many of them have to take unusual measures to get to know other members of their species. What kind of measures, you ask? Well, travel with us into the depths of the City of Scars and you'll find out. But be warned: it won't be pretty!
